of children in the school district.

The Board, at a special meeting last Thursday, also decided to schedule another vote on the pupil supplies proposition. Petitions with 1,332 signatures in support of another vote on this item had been submitted. The Board’s expressed rationale for taking this action, even though the number of petition signers fell short of the legal requirement, was twofold: 1) The narrow margin of the defeat of this proposition on July 10, and 2) The financial hardship that would be imposed on many parents if they are required to pay an average of $19.20 per child for necessary instructional supplies.

The interscholastic athletics proposition, if passed, would add about $1 to the tax rate in Bethlehem and about $1.50 to the tax rate in New Scotland. Addition of the pupil supplies amount to the contingency budget would add about 97 cents to the Bethlehem tax rate and about $1.43 to the New Scotland tax rate.

Lunch with Judy Blume
I was so excited a few weeks ago, to receive an invitation to meet Judy Blume, one of the most popular of today's children's authors. I hoped that it would be an intimate luncheon for two, but knew that probably would be about five hundred of her admirers. I was pleasantly surprised to be one of about 14 people, among whom were her translator into Japanese, a reviewer of her books and her editor at Bradbury Press.

I know many of you have fallen in love with Judy Blume because of the books she has written: Are You There God, It's Me Margaret?, Then Again Maybe-I Won't, Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing, Otherwise Known as Sheila the Great, It's Not the End of the World and Deenie. I love her too, and was not, at all disappointed when I had-lunch with her on July 11 in New York City.

She talked about her children, her books, her ideas for books she wants to write and about things anyone would talk about. I realized then how much she is just like you or me. When she married and had children she had no idea that we would all love her for the books she has given us. I wondered what she had that I did not have to be able to tell things just the way they are. It encouraged me to write down what I think and feel and maybe it too will speak to others. Maybe she has encouraged all of us. After meeting her, I know that thought would make her happy.

VanCurlers and J&J Corporation continued their dominance of league play by winning 4 and 3 times respectively. VanCurlers defeated Meads in ten innings 6-5 and 11-10. They also beat Delmar Exxon 3-1 and Mezone's 5-0. Ray Elmore was the winning pitcher in all four games and Dave McCann and Donny Moore sparkled at the bat.

Meanwhile J&J Corporation kept the heat on by winning 3 games. Booker Turbin and Pat Brozowski combined their pitching performances by trouncing Meads 12-5 and 9-5 over Delmar Exxon.

In another action Mazzone squeezed by Delmar Exxon 4-3 and 5-3 and also knocked off D&L Movers 8-3. Bobby Shultz recorded three victories. Finally D&L Movers came from behind to defeat Delmar Exxon on a 3-run home in the 7th.

JOTTINGS
by Joni

Should the responsibility of bike riders safety be placed upon the automobile drivers? This is the time of year when bicycle traffic is extremely heavy. I feel that due to the recent energy crisis, bicycles are a growing means of short distance transportation for young and old. But should the operator of a motor vehicle be burdened by the new trend?

It seems to me, that operator of bicycles should be subject to strict laws and penalties if these laws are broken. In cases of violations by minors the parents should be held responsible to see that their children understand and practice safe operation of a bicycle. Why wait until tragedy strikes before improvements are made?

Laws governing the operation of a bicycle would be protection for the bike rider and operators of motor vehicles.

Don't put off till tomorrow what you should do today.
Dear Sir,

In reply to Mr. Shutt's letter to the Spotlight of June 20, I would like to state that I do not find the Union National Bank building offensive. I am sure that all regulations were followed. I am glad to know that there will be more landscaping; I know that this bank will be a good member of the community; and I welcome more commercial ventures in the town.

The point I was trying to make in my earlier letter was that our town has matured enough now to develop a completely non-political, non-partisan review board to look over future commercial developments in the town. When I mentioned "ticky-tacky" buildings, I was referring to those commercial enterprises which can be found in carbon copy in every town in America. I believe we do not need to accept buildings which are carbon copies of ones designed for other locations. Your own bank design is a smaller scale version of one designed for Westgate Shopping Center, our hamburger emporium can be found all over the country, our gas stations, our convenient food stores are all carbon copies of those found in other communities.

There are communities which will not accept these kinds of designs, and as a result, companies submit designs which the community will approve. Believe it or not, there are beautiful gas stations, banks, hamburger stores and the like. Perhaps a panel of experts will be one step in the right direction. I am sure that we would both be in favor of any proposal which would make for a more beautiful Bethlehem, since we have both chosen to make this our home.

Sincerely yours,
Dominick DeCecco

Would you believe diarrhea can be good for you? Seems it's nature's way to get rid of bacteria before they can multiply and make you sicker. In recent tests, those who took anti-diarrheal medication ended up with longer fevers and illnesses.

Now that Turkey has stopped growing poppies (in the anti-narcotics drive), drug manufacturers find a shortage of opium for medicinal use, and there is talk of growing the poppies in the U.S.

Before you take that camping or swimming trip, make sure your first-aid supplies are complete and fresh. You'll find all the antiseptics and bandages you need at

The Spotlight
"The Prophet?"
"I was the world's worst failure," he admits. "I failed as a writer, as a salesman, and as a husband and a parent."

He was thinking about suicide when he read W. Clement Stone's "Success Through a Positive Mental Attitude." "His philosophy really got through to me," he says. Maridino went to work for Stone's insurance company and became a sales manager, making a new life for himself beyond his wildest dreams. His book is his legacy to others.

Now published by Bantam Books in paperpack at $1.95, "The Greatest Salesman in the World" is the legend of an ambitious camel boy of 2,000 years ago who is given ten ancient scrolls containing the wisdom he will need to achieve his goals in life. YOUNG PEOPLE ASK:
WHAT SHOULD I INSURE?

The Answer:
Sure anything you can’t afford to lose. Like your furnishings, your home and your car. Or insure against expenses resulting from injury or loss of property or lost income due to illness.

The Cost: Not nearly as expensive as you may think. If you rent, you’ll find Aetna’s Tenants Policy low in cost and excellent in coverage. If you have a safe driving record, you can probably qualify for Auto-Rite, the safe-driver’s money-saving auto insurance.

Why not come in and see us and get an honest analysis of your insurance needs? We’ll give you the protection you need — no more and no less — at a reasonable cost. Call us today.

The friendly firemen have dusted off the various games of skill, added new games including a "Moon Walk" for the children, stocked a huge supply of prizes and decorated the Fair Grounds, one of the finest in the area for everyone's enjoyment.

The magnificent "Cook Shed," a favorite of all who visit the Fair has been stocked and will again feature a Clam Bar, Hot Dogs, Hamburgers and many other gastronomical delights. Home made pizza, Italian Sausage Sandwiches and your favorite beverages will also be served daily.

The activities will commence at 7:00 P.M. each night and there will be plenty of supervised free parking available for all at the adjoining Town Square Shopping Center parking area.

Plan now to attend one of, or all of the fair nights, and have a wonderful time relaxing with your friends and neighbors at this gala event.
