No tax increase in town budget

By Kevin Mullen

Supervisor Robert Hendrick said Monday he plans to present a tentative 1987 Bethlehem town budget that will require no increase in property taxes. The spending plan, which calls for a five percent raise for all town employees and an increase in planning services, was to be presented Tuesday at a special town board meeting.

Hendrick said the board will hold several budget workshops during October. A preliminary budget must be approved no later than one day after the Nov. 4 election.

Although town expenditures will increase next year, Hendrick said he doesn't see an increase in the town's tax rate for fiscal 1987 because other revenues are increasing. He said he has estimated an increase in county sales tax revenue from $2.7 million in 1986 to $2.9 million in 1987. Mortgage tax revenue will go from $95,000 in 1986 to $136,000 in the 1987 budget.

"Hopefully there will not be a town tax increase," he said. "And none in highway."

Hendrick said he will ask the board for a five percent increase in all town salaries, but he said plans to push the board for a six percent increase.

While inflation this year has been less than five percent, over the past 10 years it has increased 27 percent, he said. "Town salaries have increased 61 percent over the past seven years."

The tentative General Town Budget shows an increase of $469,210, and the Highway Department budget will increase $39,000, Hendrick said.

Some of the tentative budget's highlights are:

• Under the Shared Services category, Hendrick said that the town hall needs some renovations and roof repairs; the town hall parking lot will be extended and, the roof on the Waldenmair building on Rt. 32 will be repaired.

• Insurance coverage is to increase by $73,000, based on projections of a 20 percent hike by the town's insurance agent.

• The contingency budget will increase "considerably," with funds set aside for hiring a full-time planner and for comprehensive planning studies. No money was budgeted for the proposed community center, although Hendrick said the board will discuss that proposal at its budget sessions.

• Hendrick is proposing an increase of $120,000 in the Parks Department budget. Hendrick said that he wants to "mechanize our operation" at the Parks Department. A tractor, loader and backhoe are needed, he said, as is a new garbage truck. Funds are needed to switch the heating system in the administration building from electric to propane. Bridge may be rebuilt

State engineers have recommended that the Mosher Bridge, which carries Rt. 396 over the Selkirk Conrail yards, be replaced with a new bridge.

The recommendation must be approved by state Department of Transportation officials before it becomes official, said Bill Heilmann of DOT's Region One design office last week. The new bridge would be a victory for local officials and fire and emergency volunteers who argued at hearings last spring that an alternative route that would take Rt. 396 southeast to Rt. 9W was dangerous because of the increased distance.

Heilmann said a new bridge, to be built to the northwest of the present bridge, would cost about $3 million, while the road alternative would cost only $2.2 million. A third alternative, to build the new bridge on the site of the present bridge, was also rejected.

Bridge, known to have become a sensitive issue for Selkirk and South Bethlehem. The Mosher Bridge is presently restricted to one-way traffic pending repairs, and the Jericho Bridge, the middle link of the Serial Link, is closed. Industry officials have said they have no money for that bridge, and Albany County and Cornell disagree on whose responsibility it is.

Heilmann said a final decision on the Mosher Bridge is expected by January.
Emergency van funded by GE

As part of its 20th anniversary celebration of the Selkirk operation, General Electric has donated $25,000 to the Town of Bethlehem for the establishment of an emergency mobile command center.

"General Electric and the General Electric Foundation's very welcome contribution today of funds with which to purchase a mobile command center gives us the heart we need — gives us the necessary communication channels to touch, if you will, every base of a varied emergency operation," said Town Supervisor J. Robert Hendrick at the celebration at the General Electric plant in Selkirk on Saturday.

The mobile command center will be a closed van truck in which six to eight people will use a communications console, area maps and reference material for on-site decision making. The unit will have an AC-DC power supply, heat and air conditioning.

In an emergency the van would be manned by the town supervisor and support staff, including the commissioner of public works, the police chief, the fire marshal, the highway superintendent and the emergency medical services coordinator, to formulate overall policy and strategy for dealing with an emergency.

In the event of a large-scale incident, an emergency operations center would be established at Bethlehem Town Hall or another location designated by the town supervisor. The emergency operations center staff would supervise overall response operations, and formulate policy and response strategies.

The mobile command post would be used in incidents such as multiple-vehicle accidents, structure fires, power failures, wind, storm or tornado incidents, flash floods, blizzards, lost persons, community events, drownings, aircraft accidents, railroad accidents, hazardous material spills and civil disorders.

The mobile command center will be an integral part of the town's emergency preparedness plan. The plan has been drafted in compliance with the New York State Defense Emergency Act, which directs local governments to prepare to respond to, properly manage and diminish the effect of disasters by identifying appropriate local measures to prevent disasters and by developing mechanisms to coordinate local resources and manpower before and after emergencies.

"In addition to salaries for individuals and the ever-present taxes G.E. pays, the company has a warm place in our hearts for its generous contributions to our Town of Bethlehem. General Electric has helped to repay the sizeable costs of water extension at this plant. The land for the extension was also deeded to the town. A most welcome position at our town park was another gift, and our senior citizens have been the recipients of that handsome, life-equipped bus that is on display here today," said Hendrick. "For your employment and your generosity, the Town of Bethlehem truly is grateful."

The spotlight — October 1, 1985 — PAGE 3

The running defection of John J. Clyde of Delmar to the republican ticket this fall has a lot of people speculating about winners and losers. Certainly Clyde's own future depends very heavily whether he wins the state Supreme Court seat he is now seeking as a Republican — if he doesn't win it seems unlikely that the Democrats will ever give the man who was once one of the most feared of upstate political figures a second look.

There has been speculation that U.S. Sen. Alphonse D'Amato, who is running on a very weak Republican ticket this year, engineered Clyde's last switch so that he could have a "law and order" running mate in a see-saw district where his weak showing of 36 percent might do anything but win him a second term. It also appears more likely that Clyde simply included that he was never going to get back in the good graces of the men he wanted to represent.

However it happened, there is little doubt who is the big winner in the split district — it's John Faso, the Republican candidate for the state Senate seat being vacated by Larry Lane.

Faso, a young Kinderhook lawyer and state official, managed to pull all of 83 votes in Albany County in the four-way Sept. 9 primary, but was primarily because his strategy called for him to concentrate on Greene County, where attention in the Republican ranks gave him an opportunity to pick up support. Meanwhile, Bothen's two candidates came close to splitting the vote. It worked, but Faso clearly has some catching up to do here.

Arlene Bruno, the Democratic candidate (also a Columbia County resident) has been on the campaign trail since early spring, and is expected to be well financed.

Bruno took the primary with 32 percent of the vote, so his success in November depends on a deal at mending fences. That probably isn't going to be a problem in Bethel, where GOP leader Benjamin C. Wolfrom — one of the defeated candidates — has already thrown his organization into gear for the fall election. Greene County may be another matter, as Faso can expect to be facing local wounds.

Clyde's candidacy on the Republican line clearly caught the local organization by surprise. The former Albany County Attorney and judge is a Delmar Democrat, but though he has never involved himself directly in local politics, his entry was a highly popular member of the Bethel Central School Board. The lone Delmar Democrat on the slate, Faso ran for re-election of the vote county-wide, and carried heavily Republican Greene.

The supreme court judicial district covers seven counties, among them Columbia, but Faso's success in Greene County was a Delmar Democrat's dream.

Clyde's opponent will be F. Warren Travens, the Rensselaer County irogue who has been acting as a supreme court judge and who has a good involvement with Rensselaer County Democratic politics.

"He won't be able to do for him," Karpowicz said of Clyde. "He's Republican candidate."

Both Faso and Keeler have been issuing position papers and statements throughout the campaign, most of them on state-wide issues. Last week, Keeler called for a public hearing on the proposal by Bethlehem and Albany County to build a low-level hazardous waste. Clyde said he is not at this time opposing the plan, but that "it has become obvious to me from talking to the people that — especially the announcement of the company — they do not appreciate that is being proposed by the company."

Faso, meanwhile, has called for debates between himself, Keeler and hur Marrie Lewis, the Conservative Party candidate. At this writing, no dates have been announced.

Board views task force changes

By Kevin Muller

After several years of hard work by town officials, business leaders and citizens groups, a sweeping zoning change targeted at Delaware Ave. was presented at last week’s Bethlehem Town Board meeting.

All of the groups that had worked on the recommendations from the Delaware Avenue Task Force said they support the final recommendations of the Delaware Avenue Task Force during the meeting. "This is a great moment for all of us," said David Zeno, who was among those who supported the recommendations of the Delaware Avenue Task Force during the meeting.

The meeting was held in the town hall and was attended by many of the town officials, business leaders and citizens groups who had been working on the recommendations for the past several years.

Kleinke said the proposed changes would have the biggest impact on retail stores. But because of the change in floor to area requirements for businesses, Kleinke said the proposed amendment would require 260 square feet of parking area for the 500 square feet of commercial area. "Car parking, said Kleinke. "The proposed amendment is in parking requirements for general and commercial business, instead of parking requirements for general business. The proposed amendment would require 260 square feet of parking area for the 500 square feet of commercial area, 50 persons by 20 feet in length." As for parking lots, at least 10 percent of the area must be landscaped. Kleinke said this will promote safety for pedestrians, vehicular access and will reduce the risk of the blacktop. "The five-foot setback on the sides and rear of the building lot would not make up the 10 percent requirement," he said.

Board member Sue Ann Green is concerned about parking lots along Delaware Ave. Kleinke said the proposed amendment would require 260 square feet of parking area for all three types of establishments.

Another important part of the amendment is the building and parking setbacks. The proposed change calls for an increase from 10 to 15 feet for setbacks for buildings. It also calls for a five-foot setback on side and rear lines. Kleinke said that the changes would allow "a greener" for the planting of trees and other types of vegetation.

The other point Kleinke emphasized was the "buffer area" between commercial and residential districts. He said that the proposed amendment calls for a parking area for all three types of establishments.

Callanan, state settle

Callanan Industries of South Bethlehem and the state Department of Transportation have reached an agreement regarding implementation of state and federal affirmative action programs, ending a dispute that had threatened the long-term survival of the company.

The agreement, which was presented by Janet Burns, president of the Selkirk Volunteer Fire Company No. 2 Ladies Auxiliary, to Gerald Day of Elmere, chairman of the burn fund, the auxiliary raised the money during its fair and flea market — part of the more than $1,000 that will be raised this year by area volunteer fire organizations for the fund that supports the Albany Medical Center Burn Center.

Psychiatric hospital receives state approval

The New York State Office of Mental Health has granted conditional approval for the proposed Northeast Psychiatric Hospital. The state approval clears the way for the Bethlehem Town Board to take final action on the 96-bed psychiatric facility, expected to be housed in the former Albany Medical Center. The Town Board will act on the proposal at its meeting on Oct. 17.

"We have to clean that up a little bit in the proposal," said Bethlehem Town Supervisor J. Robert Hendrick with regard to the proposal. Hendrick said the town board will first act on the State Environmental Quality Review (SEQR) and then act on the proposed facility. Town Planning Consultant Edward Klenke has recommended a negative SEQR declaration for the project, which means that it would have no environmental impact.

Hendrick said he plans to have the SEQR on the agenda for the board's Oct. 17 meeting and is hopeful that a resolution of the issue will be made at the second meeting.

At its July 15 meeting, the Bethlehem Planning Board voted 6-1, with board member Marcia Smith incident, to recommend the project to the town board.

The addition of the proposed psychiatric facility near the Glenmont Elementary School has caused considerable controversy in the town, especially among residents of the Glenmont area.

The Office of Mental Health within a few days will submit the project to the State Department of Health, which will hold a hearing on the proposal.

The State Department of Health, according to the Office of Mental Health, is expected to make a decision within the next month.

The state has requested a copy of the land lease, building lease, and affiliation agreement and bylaws for the Hospital Group of New York.

Prior to certification of the Northeast Psychiatric Hospital, the state requested submission of written agreements with the Capital District Psychiatric Center for implementation programs to assist their staff in consultation, education and training programs. In addition the state requested a copy of the resolution of the board of directors to establish a community advisory board, as well as charity care guidelines and procedures.

The office of Mental Health is requiring that final construction documents be submitted within 60 days, and at least 405 square feet of additional indoor recreation space be provided, "since the facility will not provide a licensed outpatient program, clarification of the first floor area label for Medical Education and Outpatients' must be submitted," the approval states.

The state approved Edmund Bujalski and Eugene N. Langen as stockholders and incorporators. The state also approved Bujalski, Langen, Earl L. Linchans, Douglas L. Josses, Ph.D., and Robert L. Friedlander, M.D., to serve on the board of directors.

Richard Ahlsom, publisher of The Spotlight, concluded the presentation by addressing the question, What happened to the Coffee House? And The Pit before that? Acknowledging the seniors "who feel they've been promised a center," and the presence of the BCC group, "selling and able to work for a center," Ahlsom asked if the town provide the facility, perhaps as "a precursor of a real community center in the Town of Bethlehem, which will include a gymnasium, a swimming pool.

Progress Club celebrates 85th

First of two parts

To our knowledge no one has ever tabulated the intrinsic value of the millions of hours of volunteer effort that have been contributed over countless decades by tens of thousands of dedicated women within the churches, schools and clubs of our land. These women have given freely of their time and talents as members of committees to make the world a better place — not only for themselves, but for those who are less fortunate or less idealistic. Their compensation has been the satisfaction of knowing that the task was worthwhile and completed to the best of their ability.

In Delmar some of that dedicated effort began in 1901 when a group was organized by Miss Elva Hinman (Dyer), who received her inspiration by attending a flourishing literary club’s meeting in Cohoeskill. Eleven women banded together with Hinman to form the Progress Club. Meetings were held twice a month in their various homes and Mrs. Carolyn Rouss was elected president. The purpose of the club was to foster the mental, moral and social development of its members and the civic betterment of the community. By 1905 the group became known as the Delmar Progress Club.

In those days it was commonly accepted that a woman’s place was in the home, and some men even forbade their wives to join the group, which was making such a radical departure from accepted practices. One man even feared that “it beds no good.” On Dec. 6, 1903, the life of the club’s founders ended, only a few years before the founding of its members and the civic betterment of the community. By 1905 the group became known as the Delmar Progress Club.

Several charter members of the club were Mesdames Anna Merrifield, Elizabeth Conners, Josie Dyer, Ada Yorkson, Mrs. Edward Mochie and Mrs. William A. Glen. Other early members were Misses Katherine Osmenter and Mary Nickel, Mildred Lillian and Gertrude Rowe, Kate Congdon, Ada, Catherine and Mary Sturdevant, Grace Long, Sara Apsman, Clara Hinman, Mrs. Alton Rowe. The intent were the ladies upon making their club a success that five of 5 cents was levied for tardiness to meeting and 10 cents for absence without a reason. Up until 1904 the meetings were held in the afternoon. After that year the meetings were held in the evening, when the more enlightened husbands could be at home to attend to the children. Old scrapbooks tell us that each woman, lantern in hand, would go faithfully through the streets of Delmar in the darkness of evening to attend their club meetings. It was not long before the little group became recognized as a force in the community and their early timidity gave way to action.

By 1904 the club had become affiliated with the New York State Federation of Women’s Clubs, committee was told by the teacher that she was the first parent to visit the school in 15 years. The women found that the school was in need of many structural repairs. They were so distressed by what they found that they immediately set about to create interest in the building of a new schoolhouse. The club members were so enthusiastic that they were asked by the Masonic Temple. In February of 1909 the first parent-teacher meeting was held to build a better relationship between the school teachers and parents, for the good of the children. By 1912 the club had raised enough money to purchase a piano for the school. The principal agreed that the students a half-hour of vocal instruction each Friday afternoon. The club also set up a monetary award for the two senior students who showed the greatest advancement in English studies for the year.

In a move for civic betterment, a committee was formed to approach the Delaware and Hudson Railroad officials and request “better en route and a clean waiting room in the Delmar station.” By the year 1912, the club raised money for books and set up the first Free Library in Delmar at the head of streets in the school building. On May 14, 1913, at the home of Mrs. Iva Boynton, 13 members gathered to sign the certificates for the Free Library of Delmar.

It was not long before the little group became recognized as a force in the community and their early timidity gave way to action.

The coming of the warm summer months did not put an end to the club’s schedule. Meetings were held on members front porches during June, July and August, so the ladies would not incur any costs.

The Delmar women early interested themselves in schools and set about to investigate conditions in the little two-room red brick school building in town. One member of the committee was told by the teacher that she was the first parent to visit the school in 15 years. The women found that the school was in need of many structural repairs. They were so distressed by what they found that they immediately set about to create interest in the building of a new schoolhouse. The civic betterment committee was also active in the late 1920s. It submitted a bill to the town council to request the formation of a Women's Club. The legislation passed and the Delmar Women's Club was formed in May of 1927.

The club was active throughout the 1930s and 1940s, hosting events such as concerts and pageants. In 1940, the club held its first public concert at the Turf Inn, and in 1941 it organized a fall fashion show at the Crossgates Mall.

The women of the club were also active in the community, participating in local events and organizing community service projects. In the late 1920s, the club was involved in the formation of the Elsmere School in Delmar.

In 1952, the New York State Women's Clubs held an event in which they played a large part in the formation of a park on the shores of the Hudson River. The Delmar Women's Club was active in the community throughout its first 25th anniversary, and continues to be a prominent member of the community today.

The club's history is also notable for its role in the naming of streets within the town. The women of the club petitioned the town government to petition for the naming of streets within the town, and the first anniversary concert was held at the Colony Plaza in Albany.

The club continues to be active today, with a focus on community service and education. The women of the club are involved in a variety of activities, from organizing events to volunteering at local schools.

The club's history is a testament to the power of community and the importance of women's contributions to society. Through its dedication and hard work, the Delmar Women's Club has left a lasting legacy in the community.

Bethlehem promotes 2 police sergeants

By Patricia Mitchell and Kevin Mullen

The promotions will give command supervision in the evenings and nights, and on weekends, said Chief Paul Currie. Before filling the two open sergeant positions, Currie said the department will conduct a study first to determine their areas of assignment.

"We have really got to sit down and study it," Currie said.

A captain's position that has been left open will remain vacant, Currie said, because the promotions were in-house and Currie said, because he is short-handed, Currie said, because he is short-handed.

Before filling the two open sergeant positions, Currie said the department will conduct a study first to determine their areas of assignment.

"We have really got to sit down and study it," Currie said.

Lt. Fred Holligan will now direct the department's Traffic Safety program and Stop DWI Project.

Vanderbilt will command the Headquarters Division, and he will also be in charge during the middle evening to early morning hours. Clark will be in command of the Special Services Division, and he will be in charge during the afternoon to the middle evening hours, according to Currie.

Weekend patrols will be split between Clark and Vanderbilt, Currie said.

Vanderbilt is a graduate of Bethlehem Central High School and State University of New York at Delhi. He joined the police force in July, 1974, and was promoted to sergeant in the Patrol Division in October, 1979. He ranked first on the current civil service eligibility list.

The art association will hold an outdoor show and sale at Tudor House Crafts, 353 Delaware Ave., Delmar, on Oct. 10 and 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. For information call 439-7039.

coordinate position was not made full time, he said.

There will be no major changes in the Highway Fund budget. Henderson said that repairs of five old trucks are needed.

The sewer budget will increase by $159,000, Henderson said, by $159,000, Henderson said, by $159,000, Henderson said.

The大脑 budget will decrease by $219,000. Hendrick said the decrease was caused by a reduction in debt service. He said that the filtration plant — which is over 30 years old — needs major repairs.

Placement of Glenmont Elementary School's relocatable classrooms were expected to begin Tuesday (yesterday), with work to be completed in two weeks, depending on the weather. Sometimes after Columbus Day, fourth and fifth graders will occupy the relocatables, and first graders starting out the year at the Elsmere School and an art room will take the vacated rooms. The four classrooms and a hallway arrived last Wednesday at the school on Rt. 9W.

Patricia Mitchell

Voters in three area school district helped pass the purchase of the Maywood School for the Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES).

At Bethlehem Central, voters approved the purchase $230-39, at Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk, the vote was 123-84, and at Voorheesville Central, the vote was 98-96.

BOCES pooled $24 of its member districts for permission to purchase the Maywood School for $650,000. BOCES will also spend $685,000 in renovations, bringing the total cost of the project to $1,315,760.

BOCES districts will each be responsible for a fraction of the purchase, and renovation. BOCES's share will equal 6.4 percent or $34,907. RCS's share will equal 4.4 percent or $58,772, and Voorheesville's share is equal to 2.7 percent or $32,899.

Some debate over the proposal to purchase the school was raised between parents of handicapped children over the wisdom of centralizing services in one building rather than "mainstreaming" the handicapped. Jack Daley of BOCES, said parents chose to have their children in the Maywood School's segregated program, and BOCES will continue to ask for classroom space among its districts.

"I do not see that changing," Daley said. "It is not our intent to stop looking for space."

About 460 children attend BOCES classes at 70 classrooms around the districts, Daley said. About 113 children are served by 13 classrooms at the Maywood School.

Daley said the debate to purchase the Maywood School was good because issues that handicapped students face were raised and debated.

"The debate generated was a healthy one. We felt the whole community benefitted," Daley said.

Purchase costs of the Maywood School will be spread out over five years and renovation costs are expected to take four years. Thirty to 40 percent of the purchase and the renovation will come back in state aid.

BOCES had been renting the school from South Colonie since 1978.

The program is now 80 percent funded by state aid. BOCES is working on the proposal to have its monthly rent raised, bringing Maywood's rent bill to $10,000.

Grange dinner planned
If you've missed the delicious homemade dinners that the Bethlehem Grange #4 serves during the summer, then you'll be happy to learn that the Grange has scheduled another fall fund-raiser. The first is planned for this Saturday, Oct. 4, beginning at 4 p.m. at the grange hall, Rt. 396, Beckers Corners, Selkirk.

The cost of the fresh pork sausage, bacon, waffles, "elk" gravy, toast, juice and coffee. The "all you can eat" breakfast is $4 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12. All are welcome.

The women's activities committee will conduct a "this and that" sale during the evening.

Camps learn values
Fourteen young people from the First Reformed Church of Bethlehem’s Youth Group participated in a weekend camp-out at the church's reforestation area, from Sept. 12 through Sept. 14. Under the supervision of youth advisors Bill Koos, David Koos and Donna Nelson, the students enjoyed a two-hour game of capture the flag, a lengthy scavenger hunt, several volleyball games and evenings around the campfire. The theme for the camp-out was “individuality.”

The group took part in a number of discussions about "attitudes" and "being yourself."

The camp-out was attended by David Brown, Brian Goodrich, Paula Koos, Glenn Lasher, Traci Layman, Jackie Legers, Kim Nelson, Paul Parisi, Celia Shechter, Shari VanKempen, Michael Jordan, Jon Engel, Jonathan Janssen and Kenny Layman. Chuck Legere, Helen Koos, Mary Jo Brown and Kerry Layman provided additional supervision and instructions for the event.

Because of a lack of response to the village's request for bids, plans for a sewer system on Pleasant St. have been postponed until spring.

"It appears clearly we will do better if we wait for the spring season," Mayor Edward Clark said at last Tuesday's Board of Trustees meeting. The bid opening has been pushed back to next Monday, with a spring date for ground breaking.

Trustees were hoping for a referendum on the project this month, but it appears that date will be set back, too. bids are received.

No bids were received at the Monday, Sept. 22, bid opening. William Hotaling, superintendent of public works, said one contractor did pick up specifications, but was not planning to bid.

"If we insist on bids now, we will invite someone to drive the cost up," Clark said.

The board also was told that in the semi-annual test of the Vly Creek, some pollutants showed up near Pleasant St. Trustee Daniel Reh said that most of the rest of the test showed little indication of pollution.

Clark said the trustees have received several demonstrations from dealers within the last several months, and are not planning any further action on the proposal.

In other business, the village board:

• Learned that the five Concerts in the Park held this year were received well. Reh said that while 10 were originally scheduled, he had to cancel because of weather. The village spent $200 on the concerts this year. Reh said with $170 going to rent portable toilets.

• Was told that the fire department will hold an open house from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 5. The fire department is preparing to host the Albany County Firefighters Convention next year.

• Were told by Trustee Susan Rockmore that one village sign has been delivered and placed on Rt. 85A near Rt. 155. Rockmore said there are some problems with reading it, but the problems should be corrected before the next ones are finished.

• Heard that the land for the salt shed near the village garage has been purchased, and the shed will probably be in use this winter.

The next meeting of the village board of trustees is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 28.

While New Scotland town officials are struggling over a proposed gravel mine, officials in Voorheesville are taking steps to ensure they never have to face that question.

Mayor Edward Clark has proposed an amendment to the village's zoning ordinance that would prohibit mining.

"We want it to be explicitly stated," Clark said at last Tuesday's board meeting.

The only exception to the amendment would allow excavation on housing lots with a village-issued building permit to dig basements.

A public hearing is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 14. A special board of trustees meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. to allow action on the proposal.

Under present zoning, mining is not permitted in most zones in the village. In industrial districts, no buildings built or altered can be used, and no buildings built or altered except by special-use permits.

"We do not want a mine in the village. We have taken a firm position against a gravel mine in the town of New Scotland. We want to make sure our laws are clear," Clark said.

A proposed 27-acre gravel mine in the town of Hifton-Rd. has drawn concern from neighbors, including many residents of Voorheesville. Opponents of the mine have said that most residents of the village live within one mile of the mine proposed by Voorheesville Sand and Stone. At a public hearing in May in front of more than 400 people, Clark presented a resolution to the New Scotland Planning Board passed by the trustees asking them to disapprove the mine. Clark was told to present a petition to the board before the ground water and quality of life around the proposed mine as well as requests for denials.

Clark said the village board probably could avoid the action of passing the resolution, but individual proposed mines would be subject to case-by-case decisions.

"We want to be sure," he said.

In the past, small gravel mines have been in operation in the village, Clark said.

Columbia falls to Eagles

By John Bellizzi III

Last Friday night marked the third victory in as many weeks for the non-division Bethlehem Central varsity football team, whose latest victim was longtime Suburban Council rival, Columbia.

Fourteen to seven was the final score in the exciting contest which was decided in the final seconds of play. The Eagles now hold a record of three wins and no losses at one-third of the way through this year's independent schedule, the best record since the undefeated championship season of 1978.

"I think it was one of the most significant and exciting contests that we have had around here in a couple of years," said Coach John Sodergren.

The Eagles started off Friday night's game on the right foot, scoring a touchdown during their first possession. Running back Adam Acquario carried the ball into the end zone on Bethlehem's third play from scrimmage to give the Eagles an early 6-0 lead which was destined to last until the final minutes of the game.

The Eagles were again strong in the receiving end, Evangelista followed. The BC junior varsity football team lost at Columbia Saturday, 28-6, giving them a record of one for one. The Eagles were again strong in the receiving end, Evangelista followed.

Neither team scored during the relatively uneventful second and third quarters. The defensive squads on both teams consistently overpowered the offense until late in the fourth quarter. As the clock wound down, it appeared as though BC was on its way to an easy victory. To the astonishment of the fans, Columbia's running back carried the ball over the goal line with 2:32 remaining on the clock to tie the Eagles, and the extra point was kicked to give the Blue Devils the lead.

Following the score, Bethlehem rapidly carried the ball downfield, but when fourth down came around, they were stranded at the 40 yard line. With 46 seconds left, Peter Rizzuto was called in to attempt a field goal. The hometown crowd fell silent as the ball sailed the ball into the end zone to give the Guilderland 3-0, after defeating Niskayuna last Friday 26-6. They were scheduled to host a Big 2010 game against Amsterdam last night, and they play Shaker under the lights at Field next Wednesday.

Hunting dates

Dates for New York's 1986-87 hunting season have been announced by the state Department of Environmental Conservation. Detailed information on hunting seasons and regulation are available in the hunting, small game hunting and trapping guide available from all license-issuing agencies.

Hunting hours generally run from sunrise to sunset. These hours also apply to woodcock, even though it is a migratory bird. For other migratory birds, such as ducks and geese, shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. The half-hour before sunrise opening also applies to spring turkey hunting.

A $7.50 Federal duck stamp is required for hunting all migratory birds except woodcock, gallinules, rails or snipe. Shotguns must be plugged to hold not more than three shells when hunting any migratory birds.

Small game season dates and bag limits for the Albany region are as follows: ruffed grouse, Sept. 20-Feb. 28, 4 per day, Pheasant, Oct. 1-Dec. 31, 2 per day; wild turkey, Oct. 6-Nov. 16 and May 1-31, 1 per season; woodcock, Oct. 1-Nov. 14, 3 per day, 6 in possession, cottontail rabbit, Oct. 1-Feb. 28, 6 per day.

For details about obtaining turkey permits, Sunday hunting, taking hen pheasants or obtaining licenses, call the state Department of Environmental Conservation at 457-5400.

Adam Acquario, BC's no. 27, gaining ground against Columbia. He wasn't there to shake hands.

If literacy means we can read a newspaper, cultural literacy means we may truly comprehend and form opinions about what we find there. Moreover, it allows us to converse, think, and respond within a cultural context only as expansive or confined as our cultural vocabulary. Much more than helping us to read the newspaper, cultural literacy allows us to play a controlling role in the development of our own culture.

Mening scholars test

Bethylm students interested in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) on Saturday, Oct. 18, may now register in the Bethlehm Central High School guidance office.

The majority of students taking the exam will be eleventh graders. Scores from the PSAT/NMSQT can help students plan their education beyond high school and estimate their performance on the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), which is required for admission to many colleges. Results from this test also are used to determine National Merit Scholars.

For information call 439-3650.

Hendrick to speak

Bethlehem Town Supervisor J. Richard Hendrick will speak about the "Town of Bethlehem Today and Tomorrow" on the Oct. 8, meeting of the Second Millers, an organization of retired men in Bethlehem. The meeting will begin at noon at the First United Methodist Church, 428 Kenwood Ave., Delmar.
Eagles win week's three soccer games

By Dave DeCoco

In last week's soccer action at Bethlehem Central, the game balls had spent much of their time on the off-side of the field. BC blanked Mohonasen 9-0 under goalless conditions Tuesday, and finished up the week with two victories over Columbia and Scotia respectively scores of 5-0 and 4-1.

The Mohonasen game would have been relatively uneventful if not for the fact that Toby Dunmore scored five of the team's nine goals. In the Columbia game, Bethlehem pulled out their opponents' scores 33-3. Eric Lee scored twice and Charlotta Westergren also scored. The Eagles again dominated Scotia, outpacing them 8-1.

The Eagles have scored 34 goals in seven games this season, and boast four league scoring leaders. Dunmore leads the Suburban Council with ten goals, while Lee has five, Doyle four and McDermott three.

The vacation week is over for BC, for this week they must face three tough rivals. They will be at Guilderland Tuesday night, at undefeated Schenectady on Thursday and at Niskayuna Friday. Lewis feels that these three road games could determine just how good a team the Eagles are.

Lady Eagles fall to Niskayuna 8-1

By Dave DeCoco

Last week, the Bethlehem girls’ tennis team lost their first match of the season to powerful Schenectady, Niskayuna, 8-1. According to Eagle Coach Grace Franze, the defeat “was expected” and “our score may indicate.”

The doubles teams played quite well in a losing effort. Megan Mitchell and Robin Richards lost their first set 6-4 but fought back to win the second, 7-5. Unfortunately, they were down in the third, 6-3. Shalyn Ingraham and Liz Keco won 6-2 in the first, but failed to put it away in the second set, losing the tiebreaker 8-6 and the set 7-6. Franze said that they had their chances to win the tiebreaker, but they could not close it in the second set. She fell in the third set, 6-3. Kristen Did Passos and Charlotte Westergren also won their sets, but the team’s Nisky counterparts took the second and third sets by scores of 6-2 and 6-0.

Number two single player Kristen Jones remained as BC’s only undefeated player, winning in that slot by a score of 6-2.

Eagles meet tough competition

By Charles Henrikson

Both the Bethlehem Central boys and girls cross-country teams fared well last weekend at the prestigious competition. Coach John Nyilis feels that his squads are still running well, and that they are holding up as the are running for sectional titles.

Last Tuesday both teams raced Scotia and Columbia at Scotia. The girls raced to easy wins, beating Columbia 29-42 and Scotia 15-50. This upset their dual meet record to three wins and no losses on the season.

The boys had a tougher time. They handled Scotia without any problems, 17-44. Columbia, however, placed their first three runners ahead of BC’s front, making a BC win impossible. BC did take fourth, however, with Beth, Columbia winning 11th and 12th. The final on this race was Columbia 29-30. BC’s seventh runner, Jason DoBois, deserves special recognition for outstanding Columbia’s fourth, which would have been necessary for a BC victory had BC been able to split their second and third runners.

On Saturday the team ran in the gigantic Guilderland Invitational at Tawasentha Park. The girls finished a close second in their division of the race to a powerful team from Queensbury. Kim Corniares was BC’s top finisher in fifth place, followed by Julie Ryan in 12th, Andrea Wolfe 14th, Cathy Saba 17th, and Becky Aronson 18th. Senior captain Fran Shutter was out with an injury.

The boys also fared well, coming in third of their division in the race. New York State champs William Floyd of Long Island won the race, and Vermont champs Champlain Valley placed second, so, basically BC lost only to state champions. The Eagles beat their closest Section II rival by 30 points. Brendan Kearse led the way for BC, with Peg Winkler and Tom Nyilis in 13th and 14th.

BC girls soccer stands at 1-4

By Lisa D’Ambrosi

After Thursday’s 3-2 victory over Columbia, the future appeared bright for Bethlehem’s girls varsity soccer team. But this was not to be the case.

At Columbia, the injured players had returned to form, the original squad was back and the team was playing well. The passing shots were outstanding just weren’t as aggressive as we should have seen. Columbia had 21 shots on goal to BC’s 7.

So far, the record is 1 and 4 and the hardest is yet to come when the girls face Shenendehowa on Thursday, Niskayuna on Saturday and Burnt Hills next Monday.

Hopefully, the girls will pull one out of the hat and win some more games they had in pre-season.

Voorheesville flattens Schalmont, 47-0

By Kevin Mullen

The Voorheesville Blackbirds recorded their third straight victory and their third shutout — by steamrolling over an overmatched Schalmont squad 47-0 last Saturday in a Capital Conference matchup. It was the home opener for Voorheesville.

The boys in the purple and yellow dominated. Though quarterback John Meacham, halfback Kevin Kelly and halfback Tom Donahue will get most of the credit, it was the huge offensive line averaging about 47-0 last Saturday in a Capital yellow dominated. Though quarterback John Meacham, halfback Kevin Kelly and halfback Tom Donahue will get most of the credit, it was the huge offensive line.

"We came off the ball well," said head coach Pete Douglas, referring to the line of center Rich Kane, guard Tom Hampston and tackles John Troudt, and safety Kevin Smith. "The offensive line is the huge offensive line — Donahue. Kevin Kelley also scored twice.

When the Blackbirds scored, the defense was quick. The first drive took only five plays, covering 44 yards, after a Sabre punt. That was their first tally of the second quarter when Meacham dashed 19 yards on an option after a nifty fake to Troudt.

"We ran the option the way we wanted to," Douglas said. "We pitched it when we had to, and kept it when we had to. Meacham had to read and he read perfectly."

Prior to the Meacham score, he scored another one on a 25 yard scamper but the play was nullified because of clipping. The key play on the 44 yard drive was a 1-yard run by Troudt that set up the score on the 32 yard.

The Sabres took the opening kickoff but fumbled after three plays. Then the Blackbirds flew downfield quickly. Meacham scored the first points of the contest on a one-yard keeper. That drive consumed 40 yards in just three plays. The key play of the series was the Blackbirds first of the afternoon, a 38 yard pass from Meacham to end Ed Sapinenza that took the Birds down to the two-yard line.

Kevin Kelly scored the third touchdown on a 12-yard run. Voorheesville scored three plays to cover 50 yards after a partially blocked Schalmont punt. Kelly hit on the drive was a 25-yard run to the left side by Kelly that took the pigskin to the Sabre 12. Matt Collins converted his third straight extra point.

The last score of the first half was the touchdown pass from Meacham to Tom Donahue. Voorheesville took four plays to rambled 41 yards after a Sabre punt. The key play on the drive was the huge offensive line conversion. That made the score 28-0.

Defensively, tackle Rich Kane, Linebackers Jeff Mazzaferrro and John Troudt and safety Kevin Kelly led the birds in tackles. Mazzaferrro had 9 tackles, Kane had 6 tackles, Troudt had 9 tackles and Kelly had 5 tackles. Kane and defensive end Kevin Tyrell each had one sack. It was the defense's third consecutive whitewash. Previously, Chatham and Lansingburgh were victims.

The Blackbirds took the opening kickoff of the second half and scored in four plays, covering 56 yards. Kelly tallied on a 25-yard off-tackle play that had to be seen to be believed. The 5-pound senior got lost in the "trash" and somehow emerged from all the flying bodies and clearing. Key play on that opening drive was a 20-yard rip by Kelly that took the Birds to the Sabre 28 yard line. Tambha Bessile had the conversion. That made the score 35-0.

Schalmont ran three straight running plays and punt. Safety Roger Ginder blocked the ball and defensive end Bruce Kiniski fell on the ball in the end zone, 41-0. The extra point was missed. If this was a boxing match it would have been stopped by the referee.

One touchdown was scored in the third frame on a 16 yard burst by the powerful 190-pound Jeff Mazzaferrro. Midway through the short drive, Bruce Kiniski took over the controls for quarterback John Meacham. The conversion was again missed again and the final score was 47-0.

Sometimes statistics lie, but Voorheesville completely outweighted Schalmont in the trenches. The Blackbirds accumulated 395 yards of total offense — 337 rushing yards and only 58 passing yards. Meacham completed three of six attempts. The Birds rushed 31 times for a 10.8 yard average. Leading the rough ground attack was Kevin Kelly with 100 yards on six carries (16.6 average); John Troudt with 83 yards on five carries (16.6 average); Kevin Meacham with 70 yards on five carries (14 yard average); and Jeff Mazzaferrro with 58 yards on 12 carries (4.8 average).

It must be noted that Schalmont is starting a new coach this year. Coach Douglas had the ball sealed away after last year's 6-2-1 team. Coach Douglas said his team was in "good condition" and he was pleased with his defense. His next concern is Albany Academy, and a return to Voorheesville this Saturday.

"Academy is always a tough ball control team," he said. "We have to get a ball control team. They reside in Voorheesville. But judging from last week's ball control team doesn't believe in operating more than five plays on one drive. The Blackbirds can move the pigskin very quickly.

Falcons take Brunswick

Bethlehem's Pop Warner Falcons improved their record to 4-6 Sunday with a 28-12 victory over Briarcliff.

Mike Gamble dispute led the offense with three touchdowns and two extra points. Kevin Smith scored the other two touchdowns and added excellent blocking. Linebackers Josh Lanni and Kyle McCarthy anchored a previously unscorched defense.

The Falcons play Colonie at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The Junior Midget Hawks went to Ravena Sunday and returned with a win in the "W" column. The game was ended in the second quarter with combined the 1-2 punch of the Black brothers (Chris and Andrew) to assure the Hawks' first victory.

Next Sunday the Hawks could to Troy for a 2 p.m. game.

Collision on Rt. 144

A Cohoes man was taken to Albany Medical Center Hospital last Monday after a car collision with another on Rt. 144 and Cornings Hill Rd. in Glenmont, Belmont police said.

Lawrence T. Sharp, 28, of Cohoes, was treated at Albany Medical Center for head injuries, and later released, a hospital spokesman said.

Police Sgt. Bennington, Vt., said a Berinington, Vt., man was driving south on Rt. 144 at 8:15 a.m., and Sharp was making a left turn to Rt. 144 from the Cornings Hill Rd. Police said Sharp did not see the other vehicle, and the two vehicles collided.

Sharp was ticketed for driving with his license suspended and failure to yield the right of way, police said.

Chuck Rogers, Chuck Rogers, Chuck Rogers.

If you follow cross-country in the Albany area, you know what that name means. Rogers has been one of the top runners in the area and definitely the top harrier in Voorheesville in the past few years, and he easily put on a great show again on Saturday at the Tawasentha Invitational in Guilderland.

Prove it he did as he became the first person in Voorheesville history to win the race, defeating some of the finest and most distinguished runners in six states and the province of Ontario. Rogers' time of 12:12 was also one of the top ten times in the history of the race. It also means an excellent race for the Birds, finishing in 15th place. Overall, the squad finished in the seventh place. "If a few guys had done a little bit better, we could have come in third place," stated coach Ken Kirk. "Our times were good, but just not as good. Remember we were one of the two small schools in the race."

The Blackbirds also had a dual meet versus Cohoes, a very strong team. "I was a little disappointed, but we were really good," said junior Tom Eberhardt. Individually, Rogers came in first place, and DeCatur finished a very impressive third, beating a runner who competed in the interagency meet a year ago. "That ran really well," the veteran coach.

Blackbird's tennis team undefeated

By Dave Larabee

It was an active and very successful week for Voorheesville's girls team, as the Blackbirds returned their dominant standing atop the Colonial Council.

On Monday, the team put their undefeated record on the line as they hosted rival Lansingburgh. The visiting Knights suffered a disappointing 6-2 loss to Cohoes, a very strong team. "I was a little disappointed, but we were really good," said junior Tom Eberhardt. Individually, Rogers came in first place, and DeCatur finished a very impressive third, beating a runner who competed in the interagency meet a year ago. "That ran really well," the veteran coach.

The Right To Complain

When your real estate agent begins to talk about "his" market, "his" houses, the smartest thing you can do is get out of the way. The presence of the owner inhibits the prospect, he feels he can't help where he wants to or say what he thinks.

"It's a good sign of interest when a house looks in disrepair and cabinets to measure storage space and figure out how it all fits together would fit. But when the seller's in the house, it's uncomfortable for point."

"Surprisingly, the real estate price offers the opportunity and interest, the presence of the prospect, often we can counter those objections right away and sell them as selling points. An owner may take a complaint personally and get defensive. We can answer it effectively.

"Don't stick around to "help" sell your house. Give that prospect the right to complain personally and let your agent sell for you.

On the girls side, Dorinda Gifford finished third in losing effort to Lansingburgh and first as the girls beat Cohoes. Kim Sullivan came in second against the Tigers, with Renay Arbut and Carol MacCracken also showing points for the home squad. This also leaves the Birds hope to fare better.

Improvement seems to be the word for the Voorheesville Blackbird soccer team, as they enjoyed another successful week on the way to moving their record to 4-1-1 in Colonial Council play and 5-2-1 overall. The Birds registered two wins and a tie during the week to give the stage for Monday's game against league leading and undefeated Albany Academy, one of the top small schools in the area and state.

Last Monday the Birds beat Waterford on a rainy, wind swept day, Voorheesville did not let the poor weather get to them, totally dominating the game. Jeff Smolen, the Birds 28th goals on goal, was Waterford's four, and tallied on five of them for a shutout victory. Jeff Smolen opened the scoring, capitalizing on a beautiful pass from Keith Fragomeni to give the Birds a 1-0 advantage.

"Keith made a very intelligent play," coach Bob Crandall noted. "It is nice to see a sophomore with that kind of presence." The next time around it was Fragomeni on the scoring end as he took a pass from Andy Rockmore for a 2-0 lead. It was Rockmore and Fragomeni combining one more time, but the opposite way to make it 3-0 Birds. Brian Tracey, playing in his first game of the season after an injury, scored on an assist from Kyle Kodra to make it 4-0 Smolen, closed out the scoring, pushing across a pass from Mike Race for a 50 Blackbird victory. Kevin Dell and Kevin Reeth combined on the shutout. Two days later the Birds travelled to the "Death Valley" of the Colonial Council, Schalmont's home soccer field. The Blackbirds played very well but could only come away with a 1-1 tie, due to a goal by Fragomeni with only 10 minutes left in the game. "We had some near misses on shots, but we played a pretty strong game," said Crandall.

"We are doing a very nice job, and our team played well."

Strikers Dave Dunham and Jon Flanders also played superior soccer on Friday Voorheesville travelled to Lansingburgh in another league game. Race and Smolen scored within six minutes of each other to stake the Birds to a 2-0 halftime lead. The Knights came back, bagging goals to tie the game 2-2. "We are still growing," Crandall stated. "Our passing was very nice and our team played well."

RCS runners strong at invitational

By Josh Curley

Another successful week was experienced by the RCS boys Cross Country team, who placed their dual meet record to 3-0 with a crushing win over Schalmont and some excellent times completed at the Guildert Invitational.

The Indians proved their strength when they destroyed Schalmont 15-2 with first-second-three-four-six-place finishes. Lance Tucker, Paul Curley, Josh Curley, Jim North, and Bill Pellicer provided the force in the victory. Ravena Cross Country runners did well against some of the best runners and most powerful teams on the region on Saturday morning in Lansingburgh. Several team members had top finishes. Paul Curley capped the winning at 17th in the tough varsity boys division, Dena Perry and Theressa Darling finished 11th and 19th respectively in the varsity girls division, and Jeff Schaffer finished a strong 19th in the JV boys race, earning himself a spot on the varsity squad in the next meet.

The Indians were scheduled to travel to Cohoes on Tuesday. Cohoes is regarded as the top team in the region and will have come off of a win at an Invitational at Utica. Though RCS is a definite favorite, the team cannot afford to let down on this meet, and will have to step on the wining by the third, fourth and fifth Ravena runners.

Meanwhile, the girls varsity team placed second, third, tie-fourth and tie-fifth among the competition. Palma Samsel took 2607. The girls started off with a tough early-season loss to Schalmont, who they faced Tuesday and Holy Names, who they work hard and improve their times through June.

Lady Indians at 5-3

By Paul Curley

This week the Ravena girls soccer team tries to average two stinging early-season losses to Schalmont, who they faced Tuesday and Holy Names, who they play Saturday. The Indians must also beat Guilderland Tuesday to maintain their winning streak. Last week was a perfect one as the team went 2-0, 1-0 and 3-0 against Northwest, Byram Hills, and Glenmont respectively. The team's record is now 1-2-0 and they do not plan on planing on making sectionals this year unless they work hard and improve their results. The next game is this Friday home against Shenendehowa.

Classes cancelled

The classes senior citizen exercise classes scheduled for Wednesday, between 2 and 3 p.m., have been cancelled through December. The classes will resume in January.

Cyclist pleads guilty

A Delmar man had his licence revoked after he pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge of driving while intoxicated, Bethlehem Town Court officials said.

McElroy was arrested and charged with the misdemeanor DWI on July 29, after the Bethlehem Police Department received a tip on July 26. The man was stopped on Delaware Ave. at 9:15 p.m. after reacting to police reports. McElroy said he was driving west on lower Delaware Ave. at about 8:55 p.m. and as he swerved to avoid potholes in the road, he lost control of the motorcycle and fell.

McElroy was treated for arm and shoulder injuries following the incident, police said.

Saratoga falls to BC

By Rose Doctor

Last week started off well for the Bethlehem field hockey team, but ended with disappointment.

The girls started off with a 1-0 win over Saratoga that lifted their spirits for the next game. On Thursday, the team lost a heartbreaking double overtime with a final score of 2-1. The last game of the season was against Niskayuna was another disappointment when the girls lost 2-0.

"They are," some returning players, "are working very hard to make this year a success. They all try to push to the limit." Shannon "Lu," Megan McGinn - and Jackie Menzick- have been consistent on the team.

The team's record now is 1-5-0 and the team does not plan on planing on making sectionals this year unless they work hard and improve their results. The next game is this Friday home against Shenendehowa.

Golfers take two

After defeating Niskayuna 6-4 and Scotia 9½ to ½ last week, the Eagles traveled to McGregor in Saratoga on Thursday and lost their first of the season.

Low scores were 38 by Mark Young and 41 by Mike Darnell. This will be a big week for the Eagles as they entertain the top teams from the Blue Division. Colonie and Saratoga, on Tuesday at Voorheesville, then travel to VanPatten to play Shenendehowa on Thursday and finish the week against Guilderland at Pinehaven on Friday.

Indicted for burglary

Three men have been indicted for second degree burglary and three other felony charges by an Albany County Grand Jury after they were arrested following a four-hour manhunt in Glenmont on Sept. 11.

Indicted and arraigned last week were Michael Pearson, 18, of Maple Ave. in Selkirk, his brother, Ricky Pearson, 19, of First St. in Albany, and Timothy Thomas, 19, of Second Ave. in Albany, according to the Albany County District Attorney's office. The three were indicted on felony counts of second degree burglary, second degree grand larceny, and on felony and misdemeanor counts of unauthorized use of a vehicle.

The three men have been charged with forcing their way into a house in Selkirk on Sept. 11 and taking more than $1,500 worth of property, including a rifle and a .22-caliber handgun, the district attorney's office said. They were also accused of entering a vehicle that was allegedly taken from an acquaintance in Albany.

A vehicle driven by the men was seen earlier that day in the hamlet. State Police stated they attempted to stop the vehicle on Rt. 9W after the burglary, but the vehicle ran off the road and went into woods near Wempke Rd. State police, Bethlehem Police, R-9 units and a state police helicopter were called out to search for the three men.

Teacher workshops

Four Bethlehem Central teachers attended the four-day Poetry as Performance workshop sponsored by the Capital Region Center Institute for Arts in Education.

Anita Roberts, Ann Connolly, Jan Weitman and Jim Yeas switched roles from arts to teachers to performing as artists. Twenty-six teachers from other area schools also participated.

The teachers experienced a variety of performances, videos and tours, and wrote poetry, calling the writing workshops, and received instruction from regional and internationally acclaimed artists.

Some of the artists included Jackson MacLow, the "grandfather" of performance poetry, Barney Baggemann, poet, beat poet Michael McClure, and Ray Manzarek, former keyboardist for The Doors.

Special emphasis will be placed on the literary traditions of rock and roll and poetry with the teenager's idiom of rock-n-roll, at a special three-day conference held at Hudson Community College in late April.

The Poetry as Performance workshop was held at the State University at Albany, Performing Arts Center, on Sept. 25, 26, 29 and 30.

Artists will visit classrooms during November, December and January.

In Elmore The Spotlight is sold at CVS, John's Pharmacy, Paper Mill, Grand Union, Tri-Village Fruit and Lincoln Hill Books.

A friend's wishes

Editor, The Spotlight: As we prepare to leave Bethlehem, we pause to reflect on our many experiences here. We feel that we must publicly express our thanks for the kindness and support shown to us over the past 15 years, and especially at the time our departure.

We sincerely appreciate the flood of cards, calls and letter expressing regrets about leaving and extending good wishes for our future.

Bethlehem is indeed a special place, made up of special people and we wish you well.

Vox Pop

I would like to thank Animal Control Officer Scott Asson, the Delmar Rescue Squad crew, Craig Siers and Tom Howard, as well as Jim Reagan, for being there when I needed them. They did everything needed to take care of Kevin and calm me.

The nurses and doctors at St. Peter's Hospital were fantastic and kept a very close watch. In time the stitches will mend. To all involved I say thank you.

Isabel Glaserer

Counseling policy

Editor, The Spotlight:

I was appalled at two statements on the subject of drugs attributed to Patricia Pinchback, student, Special Agent for BCHS (Spotlight, Sept. 24).

"What is frightening, the Pinchback said, is that some parents assume that because they don't see the evidence — because the student has no trouble making phone calls and such — substance abuse is not there."

Then, "As a counselor, Pinchback said the only time she will notify parents about substance abuse is when it is life-threatening, including addition to heroin or alcohol."

In another statement, Mrs. Pinchback doesn't think that parents can spot drug use, but she's not going to tell them she's a drug counselor. "I'm not going to tell suicidal or really hooked. "She then is able" (i.e., needs their cooperation) "to refer the family to a treatment facility for the addiction."

Who makes policy for the Guidance Department? The Board? The administration? Or the Guidance Department? Do all of our counselors operate this way? If so, I think the policy needs some discussion.

A few years ago, the notification of parents of pregnant minors by the nurse was debated, our sold tradition of privacy between doctor and patient prevailed. Who thought they were not aware of any similar tradition of privacy between students and school authorities? Students who thought were hired by the taxpayers (parents) to provide guidance (direction, not treatment), to bring problems to the attention of parents, teachers and administra-

The students and school authorities need some discussion.

Many thanks

Editor, The Spotlight:

I would like to thank Dispatcher Donna Smith of the Bethlehem Police Department for his help on Sept. 25. He asked all the questions needed to dispatch the ambulance.

Scouts' quilt displayed

A tricentennial quilt assembled by the Family Dentistry with the assistance of the Adirondack Valley Girl Scout Council's day camp at 1st-Sho-Da in East Greenbush this past summer. Approximately 500 out of 1400 girls at the camp sewed a portion of the quilt. The quilt's center scene shows the American eagle and is designed to show that things both change and remain the same. The quilts celebrates Dutch, Indian and Girl Scout themes, including Albany's tricentennial in 1986 and the United States of America's 5th anniversary in 1987 and Is- sho-Da's 3rd anniversary.

Scrap for the appliqued quilt were collected by adults and girls in the council and all girls who worked on the quilt signed the musing back. The quilt, which measures five feet by six feet, is entitled "Girl Scout Heritage."

The work was under the direction of "Girl Scout Heritage."

Other events included a collection and sale of old Girl Scout Heritage."

The Blue Circle Atlantic Cement Company recently announced its plan to purchase new cement kilns and other "waste-generated fuels" in their cement kiln at Ravena. These material hazardous wastes. This proposal would decrease pollution by the communities of Ravena, Glenmont, and Mechanicville. In addition to the pollution, the Blue Circle Atlantic Cement Company has maintained a positive record of contributions to the local area. I am told that this is an example of a company that is growing, not shrinking, under the leadership of its president. However, the proposed burning by the company raises questions that must be answered. These include: how much waste is to be burned and how will it be transported into the site?
